Dear Richard,

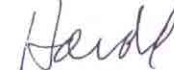

As soon as you can without inconvenience, I would like you to write and tell me the plans for publication of NEVER AGAIN!

I have in mind such things as date of publication, the effort, if any, to advertise and promote it and, in general the information authors like to have and know. ^{much too early}

Early this morning, ^{even} in the convoluted hours I live now, I think that I came to realize the outlines of your response.

Hoping that what I concluded is not correct but with deep regret realizing that it may well not be incorrect, I'll start to ¹prepare a lengthier memorandum.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
